

Activities « A la Carte » in Mississippi

Options in Natchez :

Private Natchez Historical Walking Tour :

Take a stroll to the past in a city that was once the city with more millionaires in the USA than any other city prior to the Civil War. Your entertaining and informative guide will explain why this city on the banks of the Mississippi River became such an important and wealthy city in the heart of the South. On your walking tour, your guide will point out historically significant buildings and mansions, giving you a sense of the history and culture that formed this beautiful city.

Longwood Mansion Tour :

Listed on the U.S. National Register of Historic Places, Longwood construction began in 1859, shortly before the Civil War, on this octagonal (8 sided) mansion. Of the 32 rooms originally planned for cotton planter Haller Nutt, only 9 rooms were finished, thus giving this mansion the nickname "Nutt's Folly" by locals. A visit to this historic mansion is quite different and interesting than other mansion tours you will take.

Stanton Hall Historic Home Tour :

Visiting this Antebellum Greek Revival Mansion is sure to transport you back in time with original furnishings, exquisite millwork, and original items from the Stanton family. On your 30-minute tour of this palatial mansion, you will learn of life prior and after the Civil War in this well-preserved mansion.

Biscuits & Blues Restaurant :

One of the oldest established restaurants in the heart of the historic district and a local favorite, our carefully selected lunch and dinner items allows you to enjoy local dishes in a nice ambiance. Lunch includes the special of the day of either meat or chicken with a side item and a non-alcoholic drink. Dinner includes slow-smoked ribs or chicken with two side dishes, a non-alcoholic drink and homemade dessert that won't disappoint!

Restaurant 1818 Dinner :

A truly unique dining experience: enjoy a carefully selected three course meal of soup or salad, a choice of either duck, prime ribeye or lamb and dessert while dining inside this elegant mansion.
